leasing out the trees is impracticable as it is found difficult to count them. 26

The right to use the leaves of the trees should therefore be sold annually by public auction on the following conditions:—

(1) The purchaser should lease out the trees to the owners of wet lands at the present rate viz Rs. 1-12-0 per 100 trees, preference being given to the ryots of the villages in which the trees are situated; &

(2) In cases where the villagers are not willing to obtain the leases from the auction purchaser, the leaves may be disposed of by him to others.

After 2 years' sales, the trees may be leased out to the respective villagers
